Make up The “Video Power Play Pack”:

Prepare the “Video Power Play Pack” by placing one of each item into each vinyl drawstring bag. Number each bags. Number these bags starting 101, 102, 103, 104, etc.

Be sure to number each video to match the bag they are in.

The two 3X5 cards should be numbered to match the bag they are in.

Be sure to place a return address label on the outside of each bag with your business card.

Follow this procedure when giving out the “Video Power Play Pack”:

“I’d love for you to look at the video presentation, literature and take the Power Play survey. I need to make an appointment with you to pick up the bag and show you the money.” Let them know: “I’ll only need 20 minutes of your time to show you the money. If at any time this is or is not for you, either way that’s okay.” When giving out the “Video Power Play Pack” Say: “I need you to know, I must get this pack back with in 24 to 48 hours.” (Don’t let go of the “Video Power Play Pack” until you say) “Since my materials are crucially important to my business. If I don’t get this “Video Power Play Pack” back, it will cost you $20.00.” (Keep holding the bag). “When can I arrange to pick it up and just take a few minutes to show you the money? What is better for you, today or tomorrow?” (Be sure give choice questions and to do the Power Play Pack pick up with in 24, 48 or 72 hours.) When they give you a time, take out your 3X5 card and then let go of the bag. Be flexible when needed yet remember you are leading by example. Be a good, strong leader.

You keep the card:

The 3x5 card - with the number of the pack on it is for your records. When you give them the pack, put their name, phone number, date of drop off, the scheduled pick up date & time on that card. You keep the card! Leave the bag!

Inspiring Change.... One Home at a Time...

When using Cassette tapes in the bag:

Number to match the video pack or make it a pack all it's own. You can use the cassette tape in the same way and will need to get the cassette tape back too. You can make it a breakfast bar with orange juice, instead of popcorn. Either way you are making a statement and set yourself apart from the rest of the every one else. Most importantly, you are duplicatable.

Clever Cassette Tape Tip:

Wind your Cassette tapes to where ½ the clear and ½ the brown tape show. This will give you the inside tip as to whether or not they listened to it. (Clever) When just giving out the tape only, ask; "I have a cassette tape I'd love you to listen to. I need you to know, I must get this tape back with in 24 to 48 hours." (Don't let go of the tape until you say) "Because my materials are crucially important to my business, if I don't get this tape back, it will cost you $10.00" (keep holding the tape). "When can I arrange to pick it up and just take a few minutes to show you the money? What works best for you...?" (Choice questions) When they give you a time, then let go of the tape. Sound easy enough? It is!

When you pick up the tape:

Glance at the tape to see if it is rewind. (Look secretly) ask if they got a chance to listen to it? If they say yes, (If it is not rewind) say, "Did you like the elephant story on the tape?" It allows you the opportunity to say, "Let me leave it with you for one more day?" Set a new pick up time.

When you get it back, if they will tell you there's no elephant story. Tell them, "You are right!" "Now I know, you are a good listener." More times than not, they do not remember that you asked about an elephant story. Just know; it helps get the job done.
